No Less Than Four Times Yesterday the Ziembers Were Called to Witness the Departure of the Vital Spark-Powerful Stimulants Used to Keep the Queen Alive Until the Arrival of the Prince Yesterday. No More Measures of This Kind Will Be Resorted to-The Patient Surprises Her Attendants by Asking for Chicken Broth-An Enormous Telegraphic Staff Located at Cowes Ready to Send News When Required-The Queen Expected to Live Until Thursday.

by Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Cowes, Jan. 22 .- 5 a. m .- Up to of bulleting this hour no further bulletin has been issued.

The correspondent of the Associated Press here is informed that the queen's condition has undergone no change.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 22, 1 a.m. -Another day in the Victorian era, now so rapidly drawing to a close, passed without any great change in the condition of Queen Victoria. The slight improvement so frequently mentioned in the official bulletins. merely indicates a postponement of the inevitable. The end may be a matter of days or only of hours, but the members of the royal family, who are now dragging out a weary visit at Osborne House, know that the death of her majesty is merely a question of a short time.

The most noticeable feature of veserday was the satisfactory portion the queen spent in consciousness, which she regained early in the afterneon and still retained at 10 p. m. At that hour she had not seen Emeror William, local rumors to the ntrary notwithstanding. Hoyalty at Osborns thus had a chance to re-cuperate from the terrible ordeal unrgotic during the early hours of Moralay, T he correspondent of the The correspondent of the Associated Press is informed that the members of the royal family were called to a room adjoining the queen's hed chamber no less than four times momentary expectation of being summoned to witness the end up to half past five. Her majesty's physicians then had only a vestige of hope that they would be able to keep the queen's feeble life in existence until the Prince of Wales arrived.

To secure this result, they resorted to the frequent use of brandy and champagne. These stimulants, used to an extent which only the greatest emergency justified, worked their process; and when the Prince of Wales and Emperor William entered the casgrounds at 11.30 a. m. they found the queen a trifle better than had been expected.

desperate remedies employed Monday morning to enable her majesty to live until her eldest son's arrival will not be used again to the same extent, for the doctors are fearful that the remedy might be almost worse than the disease. They trust to prolong her life by a moderate application of stimulants, combined with as much nourishment as can be assimilated. Such expedients as were employed during Sunday evening and Monday morning are not considered

The queen's rally astonished no one

Privately, however, they build no false hopes upon these fading signs of what has been one of the strongest constitutions with which a woman was ever endowed.

Despite the favorable afternoon, the doctors dread greatly the period hetween 6 o'clock and midnight. When that was safely passed they seemed hopeful of her majesty living at least through another day, although the memory of the previous night's relapse kept their anxiety at high tension.

The news of the death, when it oc curs, is likely to be publicly announced in London before it is announced here as according to the present arrange ments the first telegram is to be sent to the lord mayor of London.

There is an enormous telegraphic staff in Cowes, and additional facilities were installed yesterday at Osborne.

There is an entire absence of local excitement. The town has down in patience and sadness to await Never has emperor William arrived at any place in England with so little colat. No salutes were fired, no cheers were given. The men of the guardship Australia stiently manned her sides. The crowd was equally undemonstrative, the contenting themselves with baring their heads. VISITORS AT OSBORNE.

The Accommodations Are Severely Taxed-Sympathy of Americans Received with Satisfaction.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. London, Jan. 22, 3.39 a. m.-Emperor William is spending the night at Osborne, where the accommodations are so severely taxed that the Battenberg children slept Monday night at Lord Gort's residence. East Cowes castle, and the royal yachts at Cowes are being fitted up for the accommodation of visitors.

The queen's illness was so sudden and in the first onset was expected to be so brief that no arrangements were made for the posting and circulation

An agitation is on foot to have them posted immediately in all postoffices throughout the United Kingdom. At present the provinces have no means of knowing anything except from the newspapers, and the result is that all kinds of baseless rumors are circulated. For instance, at Chelmsford county court, a report was received that the queen was dead, and the juige in tears and great emotion referred to the sorrowful tidings, which later on he was able to deny.

Up to a late hour last evening crowds were gathered in the vicinity of Buckingham palace and Marlborough house, and there was a constant stream of persons anxious to enter their names on the visitors' books. On all sides it is a tale of public functions postponed and a settled gloom rests over all classes of society. The editorials reflect these feelings, and the suspense the country is enduring, together with the gratification and consolation derived from the sympathy testified on all sides from abroad. Bishop Potter's allusion to the queen in his address Sunday evening in New York to stulents and college are everywhere commented upon with very keen satisfaction. The Daily News says:

"Richop Potter compared her majesty to Washington. No American could go farther than thet.

The Daily Telegraph says: "It seems but a brief interval since England was the center of almost universal hostility. Today all international hostilities are hushed and stilled, as they yesterday morning and were kept in | never were by any single event in the annals of the world."

The Daily Chronicle observes: "In the United States the nation and the government display once again the irrepressible sentiment of a cognate people. The strain of common blood which flows in British and American veins has been rarely more manifest or more warmly recognized." This evidence of universal sympathy extended toward England in her hour of trouble is, in fact, the leading theme and the Standard remarks; "There is no enemy of England too bitter and no professing condemner of crowns and thrones too fanatical to idmit the virtues and services to mankind of Queen Victoria."

SYMPATHETIC COMMENT.

Expressions of Condolence Occasioned by the Illness of the Queen Come from Every Country Save Belgium.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press London, Jan. 21.-The dispatches reeived here from nearly every capitol in Europe, from India, Australia, Jamaica and all the British colonies, show the press and people to be sympathetic in their comment on queen's illness. The engagements of cabinet minisrs and other notable persons to apwar at public dinners, at charitable isirs or at the dedication of new public buildings, etc., are being can-celled and it seems likely that all functions of this sort will be nost-poned throughout the United Kingdom. The Duke and Duchess of Deonshire have recalled their invitations to a house party and their example is being followed by other titled entertainers. Many private dinners have been deferred.

Upon Being Released from Jail Mrs. Nation Returns to Wichita and Smashes the Glassware in Two Saioons-Arrested by a Policeman and Discharged Upon the Second Arrest by Sheriff Simmons-She Slaps the Officer's Face and Puils His Ears.

By Exclusive Wire Iron The Associated Press. Wichita, Kan., Jan. 21.-Mrs. Carrie Nation came back to Wichita today after her recent incarceration and the net result of ten minutes of work by her this afternoon are two wrecked saloons. Mrs. Nation was assisted by Mrs. Julia Evans, Mrs. Lucy Wilholt and Mrs. Lydla Muntz, of the local Woman's Christian Temperance union organization. With hatchets concealed under their cloaks they entered the saloon of James Burns on Douglas avenue and did not leave a complete piece of glass or a working slot machine in the place. All show cases both for liquorsa nd cigars, as well as the plate glass windows and doors were broken into smithereens. Next they ran to John Herrig's saloon and everything in the front of the room, including thep late glass windows, broken when he appeared with a revolver, placed it at Mrs. Nation's head and said that he would blow out her brains if she did not desist. She yielded before the pointed revolver and with her companions, ran to the Carey hotel bar, where she made her first attack on the saloons of Wichita three weeks ago. There three policemen overpowered Mrs. Nation and her friends and took them to the city prison followed by 2,000 people. Mrs. Evans' little daughter pushed her way through the crowd screaming and begged for the release of her mother, but the policemen were deaf to her entreaties. Chief of Police Cudson discharged the prisoners after they reached the fail and is heartily condemned by the citizens. The women made him a promise not to wreck any more sains before moon eaving the city building Mrs. Nation in the coolest manner began a street ecture to the immediate crowd that had surrounded the city building, saying that she expected to begin saloon wrecking again at noon tomorrow, when her truce with the chief of police

David Nation, the husband of Mrs. Nation, was in the city, but took no part in the wrecking of the saloons, nor did he go to the city jail. when his wife was arrested.

A New Sensation.

Mrs. Nation caused a new sensation onight by slapping Sheriff Simmons on the face, taking hold of his ears and riving him a rough handling generally. Mrs. Nation was at the Union station in the act of buying a ticket to a neighboring town when the sheriff pulled at her sleeve saying: "You are my prisoner, madame."

Mrs. Nation turned her face about and seeing Sheriff Simmons gave him violent slap across the face. She followed this up by laying hold of his ears with both hands and wringing them viciously. The station was full of women, who began screaming and tremendous excitement followed as the sheriff, who si a very small man, struggled with his powerful antagonist. A policeman came to his rescue and with the aid of some bystanders they succeeded in picking up the woman in their arms and placing her in a cab. which was driven rapidly to the county jail. She insisted on being placed in the private room for women but Sheriff Simmons put her in a cell in the steel rotary, where she began to pray and sing hymns,

INSTRUCTION AT MANILA

The Act Establishing a Department is Passed by the Gommission.

RELIGIOUS CONTROVERSY

Commissioner Moses Offers Amendment Prohibiting Teaching of Religious Doctrines in School Buildings-Judge Taft Offers a Substitute Permitting Tri-Weekly Visits of Priests.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Manila, Jan. 21.-The act establishing the department of public instruc-tion was unanimously passed by the Philippine commission today, after a debate between Commissioner Moses and Judge Taft over the section permitting religious instruction in school

The commissioners, originally, were manimous in favor of the section, but Commissioner Moses became convinced that it was not wise, and today he offered an amendment prohibiting the teaching of religious doctrines in school buildings. He declared the commission would disregard its instructions coneerning the separation of church and state if the "questionable provision" was enacted. The commissioner characterized as groundless the fears that Catholic children would not attend the public schools unless religious instructions were permitted. He said the experience with the Philippine schools had already demonstrated this, Referring to argument of the central Catholics in favor of Catholic Instruc-tors exclusively, Commissioner Moses insisted that a compromise was inadvisable when one of the parties was pre-disposed against a compromise.

Judge Taft's Substitute.

Judge Taft offered a substitute permitting the exchange tri-weekly visits by priests and ministers to pupils parents desired that their children receive such instructions, and prescribing the dismissal of teachers who attempt to influence pupils religiously, and the suspension of the privilege of priests and ministers whose teachings create disloyalty or disorder. Concerning the alleged disobedience of the administration's instructions, Judge Taft said the question would be whether such use of school buildings cited the facts that the school buildings in use were being used for political and religious purposes, notwithstanding the opposing attitude of the Federal party leaders. Thejudge said he did not believe a majority of the people or of the party were opposed to it. He believed the opposition was caused chiefly by fear of ecclesiastical controversy. The judge did not believe the hierarhry of the church would approve of the radical propositions of the entral Catholics. If experience proved the wisdom of repealing the section it would at least be after the government had shown that it is neither pro-Protestant nor pro-Catholic. Commissioner Ide voted with Comnissioner Moses against Judge Taft on the substitute, explaining that he questioned whether the substitute would accomplish the purpose sought. After the rejection of the substitute the bill was passed unanimously.
